

Finally at the end! We made this website in the first class I was lucky enough to sit next to you in. I got to give you gum every day, work with you on projects, and start 3 days a week off in the best way possible. Even though that class was horrible, I loved getting to take it with you.

Now, go ask your mom for your little present. I sent it a few weeks ago and it got in about a week ago and she and I arranged to hide it from you until today 😊 Enjoy it! It was so much fun getting to make it for you! It was also the first time I've ever wrapped something, so sorry if it wasn't done well lol.
